SCOTTISH DIRECTORY.

BRITISH, COLONIAL, AND FOREIGN MERCANTILE GUIDE.

This section, added at the solicitation of many of our subscribers, has been much appreciated, as it forms a most useful GUIDE TO BUYERS, and more so in consequence of many leading and influential firms having inserted particulars of their various specialities under the several classifications or trade headings, rendering it more serviceable than a mere list of names.

This Section is compiled without any pretensions to completeness, it being necessary to make a nominal (but necessary) charge for inserting names, to enable us to continue to issue the work at a popular price, so that its extensive circulation should not be impaired.

Lower Buxburn, NEAR ABERDEEN.

Metallic Packing is destined to become the packing of the future. Now that steam pressure in the Modern Engine is nearly doubled and the speed also greatly increased, I therefore recommend the above packing as specially suitable for the following reasons:—

1st.—By introducing the Ball-Joint Ring in front it will adapt itself to any Engine, however far out of line, or the Cylinder head from being square with the Piston Rod.

2nd.—The Segments being cored out, and filled in with any kind of White Metal which my Customers may specify, causes less friction and lasts double the time that Brass will.

3rd.—The Encasing Ring being designed to hold the Springs gives the Segments nearly double the amount of Wearing Surface.

4th.—It is specially designed for Engines when the Cylinders are worn, thus causing the Rod to rise and fall as it moves to and fro.

5th.—Provision being made for the Segments to follow the Rod, as it rises and falls, Friction is thereby reduced to a minimum.

We want them stronger than this. If you think  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch outside diameter and  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch bore is likely to stand a higher pressure, please send us a dozen such Glasses—say 14 to 18 inches, as you prefer. Accompanied with a Coloured Map of Scotland.

Also Plans of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, Aberdeen, Greenock, and Paisley.

MACDONALD'S
Scottish Directory
AND GAZETTEER.

*Accuracy and Completeness
with Cheapness.*

IT is the only general Directory of Scotland which is issued annually. It is kept standing in type—a result accomplished by an outlay of several Thousand Pounds on a special plant—for the economical production of the work. The great saving thus effected in the cost of labour enables the Proprietors to issue the Directory at less than half the price usually charged for similar publications, while typographical errors are reduced to the minimum, and the accuracy of the Work increased, making it a reliable Book of Reference.

MACDONALD'S
Scottish Directory
AND GAZETTEER.

Accompanied with a Coloured Map of Scotland.

Also Plans of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, Aberdeen, Greenock, and Paisley.

No Money will be received for Books until Delivered.

In obtaining the matter for the compilation of this work, neither labour nor expense is spared to ensure accuracy, and to have the information as recent as it is possible to attain in so voluminous a work.

The DIRECTORY embraces over One Thousand Five Hundred Scottish Cities, Towns, and Villages, each of which is annually canvassed personally by Competent Agents solely engaged on our publications, thus securing a Local Circulation in all parts of Scotland; and as upwards of Six Hundred of the principal English and Irish Cities and Towns are annually canvassed by our Agents, and the proprietors having Colonial Agencies, the work, both on account of its merits and its moderate price, enjoys the widest circulation of any similar publication.

The GAZETTEER Section, 1892-93 Edition, will give the re-arrangement of County boundaries in connection with the recent Local Government Act, the 1891 Census Returns, and other Statistics brought up to date.

GAZETTEER.

*Indispensable to every Library
and Counting House.*

FROM the varied and useful nature of its contents, it is consulted by all classes. Besides its extensive sale among the general public, it is patronised by Government and Public Offices, principal Hotels, Clubs, and Exchanges; is used in Public Libraries and Reading Rooms; and will be found on board the principal Steamers trading between the United Kingdom and the Continent of Europe, India, the Colonies, the United States, and South America; and as the work is in use for a year, and in many cases for years, it is thus unequalled as an Advertising Medium.

THE BUSINESS DIRECTORY OF IRELAND.

PRICE:—Subscribers, 12s. 6d.; Non-Subscribers, 21s.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Freeman.

We have seen one of the early copies of this work, which we commend to the notice of the commercial community. We don't know of any want which has been so keenly felt for a long time as a directory of this kind. It speaks most creditably for itself as another valuable addition to our national enterprises. Hitherto septennial visits have been made to our shores by representatives of directories from across the Channel, who, in the most cursory manner, gleaned a few items of unimportant information regarding our manufacturing and trading community, which afterwards were produced in the most crude fashion. A careful examination of its pages will show a mass of useful intelligence, ably digested and arranged in the most convenient way for reference. The Directory has fully attained the object of its compilers in supplying a comprehensive and exhaustive record of the latest commercial information, indispensable to all firms carrying on business either in or with Ireland. Seldom has a work deserved its title better than that which we have now before us; it is, indeed, in the fullest sense a complete and perfect "Business Directory of Ireland," comprising within its pages compendious alphabetical and classified lists of all the principal manufacturers, merchants, shippers, and traders in all the chief cities, towns, and trade centres. Accuracy, which is the greatest essential of a directory, is here observed in the minutest detail, and the work reflects much credit on the care, industry, and patience employed by its compiler. It compares most favourably with the best of the English directories, and is to Ireland what "Kelly's" is to England. The superior manner in which it has been produced—and the very moderate price—is a guarantee of its future success. Altogether, we consider the new Irish undertaking one of the most useful publications which has come under our notice.

Morning Mail.

We have nothing but praise for the arrangement of the compilation, and the excellent taste with which the volume is brought out. We believe that such a work is one that must appeal strongly to the business public of the whole Kingdom or that part of it having commercial dealings with Ireland.

United Ireland.

The plan adopted is simple but exhaustive: there is no complicated arrangement. To mercantile firms the book will be invaluable, as the lists of principal merchants, manufacturers, and traders in all the Irish cities and towns are given in a handy and easily accessible shape. The work as a whole is highly creditable to Irish enterprise.

Irish Catholic.

The work seems to us to form an invaluable adjunct of the counting-house, the study, and the hotel. No business establishment should be without it. We trust the "Business Directory of Ireland" will have the large sale it deserves.

Liverpool Mercury.

This is an exceedingly useful compilation—a large volume, well printed and well arranged, and, as the publishers state, the only exclusively mercantile directory published for Ireland. It is arranged with the view of facilitating immediate and easy reference to the class of business or the name of the firm required. In English commercial circles, especially in Liverpool, where an extensive and continually-growing trade with Ireland is going on, the directory will be found most useful.

Weekly Freeman.

A most useful commercial guide, which supplies a great want in Irish business circles. Not alone to the Irish business man will the Directory thus be useful, but also to his brothers of the adjoining countries. To wholesale houses here and across the Channel a ready indicator of the locality of smaller traders in their particular lines is clearly and concisely afforded. Commercial travellers and others will also find in this Directory a most advantageous help for arranging and compiling their business tours. In a word, it forms a vade-mecum for every man doing business in or with Ireland, and reflects the highest possible credit on the compilers and the publishers. We welcome it as a very valuable adjunct to commercial literature, and feel confident that its success is assured by its merits.

Evening Telegraph.

A work of an exceptionally useful nature is "The Business Directory of Ireland." The publication represents a vast amount of labour on the part of the compilers, and the manner in which the information is presented adds much to its value. Moreover, an English and Scottish appendix contains long and carefully classified lists of the chief traders in Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, Bristol, Birmingham, Glasgow, and Edinburgh, most of whom are, no doubt, doing business with this country. This directory is such a publication as business men have long needed in Ireland, and the value of this compilation, aiding as it does the intercommunication between home traders, is considerable. But, apart from the merit of its contents, "The Business Directory of Ireland" bespeaks success in every way.

Queen.

To men of business books of this class are always useful, and not to them alone. Tourists and visitors staying for a while in Ireland would be thankful for such aid as this volume supplies, and, therefore, hotels and other places of resort should have it at hand.

The Caterer.

To all those that are in any way associated with, or interested in, the industries of Ireland, this exhaustive business register ought to come as a "hoon and blessing." The compiler has certainly done his work well, the classification being remarkable for its clearness. It will usefully re-inforce the reference books of the commercial room.

Irish Times.

We notice with pleasure the appearance of a bulky and handsome volume with the title of "The Business Directory of Ireland"—the first exclusively Irish Mercantile Directory compiled and published by Irishmen at home. Our interests in this direction have been hitherto looked after by Englishmen, but without affording to mercantile men in this country the full and complete information they desired, and which was necessary in order to enable them to pursue their business with advantage. This want has now been efficiently supplied, and in "The Business Directory of Ireland" merchants and traders will find all the special information for which they have hitherto looked in vain. The book contains the most exhaustive alphabetical and classified lists of the principal merchants, traders, and manufacturers to be found in the smallest or in the largest Irish business towns. Thus the book commences with "Abbeyfeale" and ends with "Youghall," comprising in all more than 200 cities, towns, and villages in Ireland, and in connection with the work there is an English and Scottish appendix, which will be found very valuable as a reference. The book cannot fail to prove of great interest, not alone to the merchants and traders of Ireland, but to those of Great Britain who have business relations with this country.

Money.

It is the only "exclusively mercantile" directory ever published for Ireland, and will therefore naturally fill a much-felt void. The work reflects great credit upon the compiler; neither time, labour, nor expense has been spared in its production.

Grocer.

"The Business Directory of Ireland" is a handsome and useful work. Every business house doing a country trade will find the volume almost indispensable. The work is sure to have a large sale.

Whiskey Trade Review.

The book has an American style about its printing, &c.—the excellent turn-out of such works in the United States of America having hitherto totally eclipsed the Britisher. We understand this is the first exclusively mercantile directory that has hitherto been attempted in Ireland. There was room for it, if not an absolute need for some one in Ireland to undertake the work. The step taken by the compilers and publishers is decidedly one in the right direction, and we sincerely hope their laborious efforts will be well rewarded. "The Business Directory of Ireland" is good value, and should be patronised.

British Trade Journal.

The classification of trades seems good. The volume is well printed and easy of reference. It should be in the office of every firm desiring to open up trade with Ireland.

THE "EJECTOR-CONDENSER."

MORTON'S PATENT EXTENDED FOR GREAT MERIT.

THE "EJECTOR-CONDENSER" produces a full vacuum without an Air Pump, in all kinds of Steam Engines, Steam Pumps, and Sugar Pans, and when applied to existing Non-condensing Engines gives a saving of 25 to 50 per cent. of steam, or an equivalent increase of power. For Winding Engines this is the only safe condenser in use, as the vacuum is constant whether the engines are at rest or in motion, and many are working with great success. These apparatus, from their saving in steam alone, very soon repay their outlay cost.

THE FIXED DOUBLE NOZZLE AUTOMATIC INJECTORS feed water of high temperature into Steam Boilers. These Injectors and the WATER LIFTERS are the most simple and efficient apparatus in use for raising and forcing water. Full information and prices on application to

Edinburgh, metropolis of Scotland, seat of the College of Justice, or Court of Session, which is the Supreme Court of Scotland; of the Justiciary, Exchequer, and other Courts; a university city, royal and parliamentary burgh, the county town of Edinburghshire, and the place of the annual meeting of general assemblies of both the Church of Scotland and the Free Church, and of the Synod of the United Presbyterian Church; a city of great antiquity, was for centuries the seat of royal administration and the meeting place of parliament. It figured so long and prominent in national events that its history is much connected with the general history of Scotland. Of late years it has undergone costly improvements and progressive extensions, so vast that it would be out of place in these limits to enter into detail. It measures—exclusive of important suburbs—about 2 miles from east to west and about 2½ miles from north to south. The public buildings are numerous and attractive, many of them magnificent edifices. Among those of most interest are:—Holyrood Palace; the Castle; Parliament House; the University; the New University Buildings; Museum of Science and Art; Antiquarian Museum; Phrenological Museum; Heriot's Hospital, completed 1650 at a cost of £30,000; Royal Exchange (1761) £31,000; Bank of Scotland (1806) £75,000; County Buildings (1817) £15,000; Register House (1820) £80,000, since added to; High School (1827) £30,000; Edinburgh Academy (1824) £20,000; Royal College of Surgeons (1833) £20,000; the Orphan Hospital (1833) £16,000; Royal Institute (1836) £40,000; Corn Exchange (1849) £20,000; Donaldson's Hospital (1851) £100,000; British Linen Co.'s Bank (1852) £30,000; Stewart's Hospital (1853) £30,000; Art Galleries (1858) £43,000; General Post Office (1866) £120,000; Sheriff-Court Buildings (1868) £44,000; Fettes' College (1870) £150,000; Maternity Hospital (1878) £10,000; the New Royal Infirmary (1879) £380,000; National Portrait Gallery (1889) gifted to the city by John Ritchie Findlay, proprietor of the Scotsman. It has a Royal Lunatic Asylum, Blind Asylum, Deaf and Dumb

Institution, &c., Botanic Gardens and Ahoretum, several public parks and squares adorned by many monuments, of which the most conspicuous is Sir Walter Scott's, completed in 1844 at a cost of £15,650. The university has obtained at least as high a medical reputation as any in Europe, while the other educational establishments are justly celebrated. It will compare favourably with any city in Great Britain for the number and importance of its benevolent and charitable establishments, and valuable endowments for the maintenance and instruction of the young. It has a variety of scientific and literary institutions. The religious and missionary societies are most prominent. The ecclesiastical buildings are both numerous and handsome, several of which are highly interesting. The Churches are Established, Free, United Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Congregational, Evangelical Union, Wesleyan, Roman Catholic, Original Secession, Primitive Methodist, Catholic Apostolic, Society of Friends, Unitarian, and a Jewish Synagogue. Glasgow, the commercial and manufacturing capital of Scotland, and, in aggregate importance, the second city in the empire. Situate on the Clyde, and  $47\frac{1}{2}$  miles by rail from Edinburgh. Is the political capital of Lanarkshire. a royal and parliamentary burgh, a university city, seat of judiciary and sheriff courts, and a head port. Originated from the cathedral founded about A.D. 560; was made a royal burgh in 1180; was but a small burgh of limited extent in 1550. Its great and continued prosperity—entirely the result of enterprise and skill in manufacturers and commerce—only dates from last century. Its present vast predominance testifies to the vitality and energy of its citizens. In the fifty years between 1831 and 1881 it considerably more than trebled its population, and now, including suburbs, measures 6 miles by  $4\frac{1}{2}$ , and is of such magnitude that space will not admit here of even a meagre description. The public buildings are both numerous and handsome, and include many very interesting and noble structures. The Cathedral, the University, the Merchants' House, the General Post Office, and the Royal Exchange, may be mentioned. The Municipal Buildings recently erected cost about £500,000, including £165,000 paid for the site. The charitable institutions are many, the most important being the Royal Infirmary, Western Infirmary, Fever Hospitals, Small-pox Hospital, Maternity Hospital, Asylum for the Blind, Deaf and Dumb Institute, Lunatic Asylum, &c. It has various scientific and literary institutions, including a museum and two public libraries, also a Royal Botanic Garden, several public parks and many monuments—no fewer than 11 standing in George Square. The Churches are Established, Free, United Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Evangelical Union, Congregational, Wesleyan, Roman Catholic, Catholic Apostolic, Methodist, Christadelphian, Original Secession, Unitarian, Plymouth Brethren, Society of Friends, Christian Brethren, and a Jewish Synagogue.—The harbour shared in the prosperity of the city, and by extensions from time to time, necessitated by increasing trade, acquired its present greatness at a cost of over £11,000,000. For about  $2\frac{1}{2}$  miles from Glasgow Bridge the river presents the appearance of an immense dock, and is deep enough for the largest sea-going ships. The harbour possesses all the appliances of a first-class port, and is connected with the whole railway system of the kingdom. At end of 1883 the number of vessels belonging to the port were 772 steam vessels of 568,251 tons, and 607 sailing vessels of 411,413 tons; its shipping comprised 8251 vessels of 2,637,437 tons inwards, and 9346 vessels of 2,896,395 tons outwards. The export, import, and coasting trades are enormous. For sailings of steamers see list of Shipping Offices.—Annual value of real property (1882-83) in parliamentary burgh £3,299,680, in municipal burgh £3,424,490. Pop. (1891) of parliamentary burgh 564,968, inhabited houses 117,537, pop. of city and suburbs 792,728, inhabited houses 162,064

MORTON'S PATENT EXTENDED FOR GREAT MERIT.

THE "EJECTOR-CONDENSER" produces a full vacuum without an Air Pump, in all kinds of Steam Engines, Steam Pumps, and Sugar Pans, and when applied to existing Non-condensing Engines gives a saving of 25 to 50 per cent. of steam, or an equivalent increase of power. For Winding Engines this is the only safe condenser in use, as the vacuum is constant whether the engines are at rest or in motion, and many are working with great success. These apparatus, from their saving in steam alone, very soon repay their outlay cost.

THE FIXED DOUBLE NOZZLE AUTOMATIC INJECTORS feed water of high temperature into Steam Boilers. These Injectors and the WATER LIFTERS are the most simple and efficient apparatus in use for raising and forcing water. Full information and prices on application to

DEESIDE HYDROPATHIC ESTABLISHMENT, HEATHCOT, NEAR ABERDEEN.

DEESIDE HYDROPATHIC ESTABLISHMENT is beautifully situated on the south bank of the River Dee, five miles from Aberdeen.

The Estate consists of about 300 Acres, 30 of which are laid out as Policies, and are kept exclusively for the use of the Patients and Visitors.

The Climate of Deeside is healthy and bracing. The subsoil of the Estate of Heathcot is of a light gravelly nature, dry and porous, and consequently free from damp; and, owing to the absorbent nature of the soil, out-door exercises can be engaged in almost as soon as rain ceases to fall.

HEATHCOT is sheltered from the east wind by the hill of Ardoe, and has a fine south and west exposure. From the house and grounds there is a charming and extensive view of the Valley of the Dee, consisting of the most varied and beautiful scenery. It is situated within easy distance of Balmoral Castle, Her Majesty's summer residence, so that Visitors may go and return the same day, and see the delightful scenery of the Valley of the Dee, including Balmoral, Ballater, Lochnagar, Braemar, &c. The Patients and Visitors have the privilege of preserved Salmon, Trout, and Pike Fishing in the River Dee, which runs through the Estate for two miles. In the construction, furnishing, and surroundings of the House, no expense has been spared to secure the comfort and convenience of Patients and Visitors. The Turkish and other Baths are constructed with all the latest improvements necessary for the practice of Hydropathy.

TOMEY & SONS,

TAY GLASS WORKS, PERTH, N.B.

GAUGE GLASSES.

MERCHANTS, ENGINEERS, and SHIPPING AGENTS, &c., are cautioned against unprincipled parties selling or offering for sale GAUGE GLASSES, and representing them as the EUREKA GAUGE GLASS, as Messrs TOMEY & SONS are the only Makers of the EUREKA GAUGE GLASS in the World, which has given entire satisfaction to Engineers, &c.

Our Glasses have recently been tested by an inspector for the Indian State Railway up to 6800 lbs. pressure per square inch, and they do not change COLOUR.

TESTIMONIALS.

From Messrs EASTON & ANDERSON, Frith Iron Works, Frith, Kent:—"To Messrs TOMEY & SONS—The Gauge Glasses you sent us were  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch diameter, and about  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch bore, and stood from 2400 to 3900 lbs. per square inch bursting pressure. We want them stronger than this. If you think  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch outside diameter and  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch bore is likely to stand a higher pressure, please send us a dozen such Glasses—say 14 to 18 inches, as you prefer. E. & A."

From Messrs JOHN FOWLER & Co., Steam-Plough and Locomotive Works, Leeds:—"GENTLEMEN—We have always found the quality of your Gauge Glasses to be very good.—yours truly, JOHN FOWLER & CO."

From Messrs GOURLAY BROTHERS & Co., Engineers and Shipbuilders:—"GENTLEMEN—We have used your Gauge Glasses both for Marine and Land Boilers for a considerable number of years past, and they have always given us satisfaction.—yours truly, Pro GOURLAY BROTHERS & CO., JAMES MAXWELL."

From Messrs MERRYWEATHER & SONS, Steam Fire Engine Works:—"GENTLEMEN—We have used your Gauge Glasses for the last ten years, and have much pleasure in testifying as to their durability.—We are, Gentlemen, yours faithfully, MERRYWEATHER & SONS, London."

From Messrs BROWN & Co. (LIMITED), Atlas Steel and Iron Works:—"GENTLEMEN—We have now used your Eureka Gauge Glasses for over eight years, and they give us every satisfaction.—We are, Gentlemen, yours truly, Pro JOHN BROWN & CO. (LTD.), W. JACKSON, Engineer."

ARTHUR FARQUHAR,

Lower Buxburn, NEAR ABERDEEN.

Metallic Packing is destined to become the packing of the future. Now that steam pressure in the Modern Engine is nearly doubled and the speed also greatly increased, I therefore recommend the above packing as specially suitable for the following reasons:—

1st.—By introducing the Ball-Joint Ring in front it will adapt itself to any Engine, however far out of line, or the Cylinder head from being square with the Piston Rod.

2nd.—The Segments being cored out, and filled in with any kind of White Metal which my Customers may specify, causes less friction and lasts double the time that Brass will.

3rd.—The Encasing Ring being designed to hold the Springs gives the Segments nearly double the amount of Wearing Surface.

4th.—It is specially designed for Engines when the Cylinders are worn, thus causing the Rod to rise and fall as it moves to and fro.

5th.—Provision being made for the Segments to follow the Rod, as it rises and falls, Friction is thereby reduced to a minimum.

WHEAT BRIDGE MILLS, Chesterfield,

Lints

These we make by our improved machinery. Perfectly pure, strongly absorbent, beautifully soft, tears well, and very cheap. Their use in the largest Hospitals of London, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, &c., is a sufficient guarantee of their quality. Our Flax Lint is the only ABSORBENT Flax Lint made that we know of. We invite special attention to our New Super Flax Lint, made from Line Yarn.

Bandages

We have recently put up new machinery for the making of Roll Bandages, and Surgeons who have not seen our new White Absorbent Roll Bandages should write us for a sample. As well as being all that is required for splints, &c.—being instantaneously absorbent—LOTIONS can be applied direct through the Bandages, and they are also the very best Bandages for use with starch or plaster-of-Paris, &c.

Absorbent
COTTON
WOOLS

Our trade is largely increasing with these goods; we make a first-class article for Surgeons' private practice, and a pure, cheap Absorbent Cotton for Hospital use. We are also Carders of both Grey and the ordinary grades of Non-Absorbent White Cottons.

"Gamgee Tissue"

Please read
this.

This patented article, recently introduced, and of which we are the sole proprietors and manufacturers, is deservedly increasing in favour with the profession. We quote the following extract from a clinical address delivered by SAMPSON GAMGEE, Esq., F.R.S.E., Consulting Surgeon to the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham:—

"On purely surgical grounds, I have no hesitation in saying that the absorbent gauze and cotton tissue prepared at my suggestion by Messrs Robinson & Sons, of Chesterfield, is the most generally useful and comfortable, the most easily manageable, and most economical surgical dressing with which I am acquainted.

"The tissue as made in long lengths, is perfectly uniform in surface and thickness, and can be cut to any shape or size to pad the trunk or the limbs, in cases of disease or injury. Powerfully absorbent and elastic, the tissue is equally serviceable for drainage and compression, for dressing blisters and burns, wounds and ulcers, sprains and fractures. The tissue does not stick in wounds, and can be applied and taken off with facility and without pain. It does not lump together, but remains uniform, and is a most soothing and healing application to inflamed joints, and many skin affections.

"The tissue is susceptible of antiseptic medication, and it also takes up plaster-of-Paris, cream, liquid glass, collodion, or paraffin so readily as to make an excellent basis for splintage and moulds. A limb or the trunk may be very speedily and effectually immobilized by surrounding it with a layer of the dry tissue, and placing outside that a layer, or intersecting slips of the same material previously soaked in plaster-of-Paris, cream, or other solidifiable substance. With the tissue I invariably use the WHITE ABSORBENT BANDAGES made at the same mills."

N.B.—Certificate of Merit to Robinson & Sons, for Bandages, Cotton Wools, and Lints.
Exhibited at the International Medical and Sanitary Exhibition, London 1881.

We place the highest value on this AWARD, as most of the Judges of Surgical Appliances at the late Exhibition have used our Lint, &c., for many years at the London Hospital. No higher recognition of Quality can be given.
